LEAVES TOWN IN THE NIGHT TO AVOID ARREST

GOLDFIELD BARBER, AFTER ENGAGING IN ROW, HITS TRAIL FOR MILLERS.

C. C. Cartwright, a barber, who arrived from Goldfield about a month ago, mysteriously disappeared from this city yesterday morning, or Sunday night, and the local police are trying to locate him. Cartwright, who arrived here with the wife of Jesse Vortrees, narrowly escaped being the principal in a gun play during the first few days of his stay in this camp. Vortrees and wife were mixed up in the "badger" case at Goldfield, some months ago, with the result that he served a short term in the Esmeralda county jail. When his wife decamped with Cartwright, he took the trail and, but for the interference of the police, would have raised quite a muss.

Saturday evening Cartwright raised a rough house in one of the local thirst emporiums. While playing twenty-one he became angered at the lookout, a man twice his age, and landed a swinging blow knocking the man to the floor. The blow was followed by a kick, and then he was hustled out of the building. Yesterday morning a warrant was issued for his arrest, but when it was turned over to the police, it was discovered that the dwelling in which the couple had resided had been vacated. The barber was not to be found, and his female companion was observed to depart on the morning train for the north. She purchased tickets for Reno and it is thought that Cartwright walked to Millers and caught the train at that point.

LAND CASE OF S. P. MAY BE SETTLED

It is quite possible that all of the big land cases, twenty-six in all, between the United States government and the Southern Pacific company, will be settled. Negotiations are now being carried on and it is believed that before many days have passed the litigation will all be disposed of. Attorney Charles Lewers spent several days in San Francisco last week and it is generally believed that he was in conference with the Southern Pacific attorneys in that city and Frank Hall and other government attorneys and from all indications some agreeable settlement will be reached which will put an end to litigation expensive to both the Southern Pacific and the government. If the settlement is reached many thousands of acres of mineral land will be thrown open to the mine owners without any cloud on their title, and much development may result throughout the state.

GAMBLING TO SOON BE A THING OF THE PAST

MANY TEMPT FATE IN EFFORT TO WIN BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE

The last week of gambling opened auspiciously for the houses yesterday, when winnipes were recorded in all of the places in Commercial Row, and when several of the hotel wheels were badly struck, says the Reno Journal.

Gamblers having any capital are playing hard and fast to make a strike before the fact. October 1st, when they can no longer make a bet. The crowd picked up wonderfully yesterday over any of last week or the preceding week.

In the Palace the faro bank was hit for several hundred dollars early in the evening by a mining man from the south. He then continued to the Louvre, duplicated there and doubled his capital in the Casino.

Against the roulette wheel there were several who made easy pickings with a dollar straight on a number that won. This happened three times consecutively to one house. Heavy play was noticed on the colors last night and many winnipes were made in that way.

As usual, the crap games managed to break right for the house, although plungers in several instances cut down profits way below what they should have been. Other games were sparingly played, as usual.

There is some talk of opening the games for the full 24 hours, starting tomorrow morning, and of rehabilitating the graveyard shift that was laid off a week ago. The proprietors of the places are anxious to get all the play possible in the few days remaining to them.

It is said that there are not enough expert dealers left in town to man the shift, however, as many of those laid off immediately left Reno, and could not be secured again.

"The combination" will hold a meeting today, to consider the advisability of remaining open 24 hours a day.

CHINESE PRINCE TO GIVE MEDALS TO HIS FRIENDS

Before Prince Tsai Hsua, uncle of the emperor of China, left for the east, he entered into a contract with Shreve & Co. to have cast 300 gold medals which he is to distribute personally to his friends in this country. The medals will cost about $35 a piece, representing an expenditure of more than $100,000.

The medals are to be ready in eight days. Some of them will be sent east to meet the prince when he arrives in Philadelphia and New York and others will await his return to San Francisco. They will be about the size of a half dollar and on one side will be a design representing the chief office of the prince, that of commissioner of the navy, an anchor being the predominating feature.

On the reverse side will be a greeting couched in Chinese, which tells of the occasion of the visit and the motive for the gift.

LIBERTY MILL WILL START UP OCTOBER FIRST

ARE NOW AWAITING COMPLETION OF THE ELECTRIC POWER LINE.

The stamps in the mill at Liberty will start dropping on the first of the month, according to the calculations of the officials of the Tonopah Liberty Mining company. This information was conveyed to this city last evening and it was also learned that practically everything was in readiness, with the exception of the electric power. A force of men is now at work stringing the wires and setting up the transformers, and as soon as this is completed the machinery will be turned over.

The mine has an ample tonnage to keep the mill busy for an indefinite period, for the work of developing and blocking out the ore bodies has been under way for over a year, and now there is an unlimited tonnage in sight.
